ANTI-MONEY LAUNDERING

Policy Statement

It is the policy of the George Washington University to comply with anti-money laundering obligations imposed by the federal government, including applicable provisions of the Money Laundering Control Act of 1986, the Bank Secrecy Act, the USA PATRIOT Act of 2001, the rules and regulations overseen by the United States Treasury Department’s Office of Foreign Assets Control and Financial Crimes Enforcement Network, and other legal requirements.

Reason for Policy

The purpose of this policy is to enhance the university’s compliance with anti-money laundering laws and regulations, to assist law enforcement in combating illegal money laundering, and to minimize the risk of university resources being used for improper purposes. Failure to comply with anti-money laundering regulations could result in civil and criminal penalties to the university and/or individual faculty, staff and students.

Who is Governed by this Policy

Faculty, staff, and students.

Policy

To assist the federal government in detecting, preventing, and eradicating criminal and terrorist financing and activity, the university will take all necessary steps to comply with applicable anti-money laundering laws and regulations.

The university will maintain an anti-money laundering program in accordance with the Bank Secrecy Act, as amended by the USA PATRIOT Act, and other applicable regulations.
federal laws and regulations. The program is reasonably designed to prevent university services from being used to facilitate money laundering and the financing of terrorist activities. The program includes the following:

   A. Procedures to verify customer identification and retain necessary identifying and transactional information;
   B. A designated compliance officer to coordinate compliance with the program;
   C. Suspicious activity reporting procedures and document retention guidelines for any suspicious activity reports and supporting documentation; and
   D. Training and education of appropriate university personnel concerning their responsibilities under the program, including suspicious activity reporting.

Concerns regarding transactions that are unusually large or that appear suspicious and questions regarding money laundering in general should be directed to the university’s Treasury Management Office.
